8th Annual
Good For Her Feminist Porn Awards

April 4th-6th, 2013

Wednesday April 3rd: Pre-Awards Special Presentation with Dr. Carol Queen

Absexuals and Erotophobes: Why They Hate Us for Our Freedom

Erotophobes understand themselves as normal – a word they favor. They have plenty of cultural support for this as residents of a society which borrows heavily in its norms from a restrictive history. An absexual –sort of an erotophobe on steroids—takes these views about problematic (or dirty, perverted, obscene) sex into more radical territory. Both types decry porn, and often sexual variety. Why do erotic freedom, and sexually explicit culture, threaten their worldview? Cultural sexologist Carol Queen PhD offers a stimulating discussion about these people's anti-sex theory and practice – and their effect on the world pro-sex activists seek to create.

Location: University College, 15 Kings College Circle, Room UC144. 7-9pm. $35
Co-sponsored by Sexual Diversity Studies at UofT. All Genders Welcome.

April 6: Feminist Porn Conference at the University of Toronto

Submission period for 2013 Good For Her Feminist Porn Awards is now closed.

Good For Her Feminist Porn Award nominees must meet at least 2 of the following criteria:

- 1) Women and/or traditionally marginalized people were involved in the direction, production and/or conception of the work.
- 2) The work depicts genuine pleasure, agency and desire for all performers, especially women and traditionally marginalized people.
- 3) The work expands the boundaries of sexual representation on film, challenges stereotypes and presents a vision that sets the content apart from most mainstream pornography. This may include depicting a diversity of desires, types of people, bodies, sexual practices, and/or an anti-racist or anti-oppression framework throughout the production.

And of course it must be hot!
